Wasn't aware of this User Manual before I saw the link Brian provided, thanks Brian , and must say that this looks pretty good. Can't wait to assign a new task with high priority to the local translation team. Having solid user documentation for the 1.0.x series is just as important as solid documentation for the upcoming 1.5 series.

In Joomla 2.5 and above, users need to register with a unique email address. Joomla prevents registration using an existing email address. This is not ideal for example where club members are children and they should be registered with a parent's address. It also makes creating test users more difficult as they all need to have separate addresses.
