JBL JRX125. These are great "small club venue" PA speakers. I play in a Rock Band and they deliver, w/help via sub-woofer, a solid sound from high to low. If you dont use the subs, it may lack abit on the "thump" end, but actually they would do just fine on their own. They fit in a standard cars back seat, they are not real heavy, but seem solid.

JBL JRX125 Reviews | Sweetwater

JRX100 delivers the performance and prestige JBL is known for at an affordable price point. To meet these conflicting design goals, we looked at every element of the speaker system design. We kept everything that makes a speaker perform and sound its best and we eliminated things that don't.

The JBL Pro JRX 125 is a pair of speaker cabinets that I purchased years ago for under 1000 dollars. They still look brand new and sound exactly the same as they did the day that I purchased them years ago. I have used many JBL speaker cabinets before and I know that most all of JBL products are built to last a long time.

All varieties of JRX are 2-way speakers, giving you the full soundscape you need for professional results. Better yet, they're some of JBL's most affordable loudspeakers, so you can create a great-sounding setup on a tight budget. While planning your JRX-based PA system, the most important thing to keep in mind is that these are passive speakers.
